The Need for Education Agencies to Support Homeless/Displaced Students During an Emergency

During an emergency, education agencies may:

- no longer be able to provide basic needs to community members who are experiencing homelessness, such as free meals
- receive an influx of students from neighboring and non-local school districts and systems
- see an increase in the need for support from local students and families who were already experiencing homelessness
- see an increase in new local families experiencing homelessness who require support with basic needs, including continuity of education

A Symbiotic Relationship

Housing

Education

...housing affects education affects housing...
Consideration One: Outreach

• How will your system locate families experiencing homelessness, both known to you and those experiencing homelessness for the first time?

• How will you assess the needs of individual students, including unaccompanied homeless youth?

• Do all your staff know who the local homeless liaison is, and how to contact that individual?

Resource: Student Residency Questionnaire

Resource: Virginia DOE One-Pager on MV for teachers, enrollment staff and social workers
Consideration Two: Policy Review

• As you plan for the complexities of re-opening school during a pandemic, ensure that LEA policies don’t create barriers to students experiencing homelessness.
  – Are MV students prioritized for face-to-face classes? Transportation?
  – Are procedures in place to provide students with necessary supplies such as face masks and internet access?

• If the school is using a virtual or hybrid model for fall, is there a plan to train parents on the platform? Is the online platform consistent throughout PreK-12?

• What are the procedures in place if a student becomes ill at school and a caregiver lacks transportation? If a student has to quarantine for two weeks?

• How will you include families experiencing homelessness in your policy review?
Consideration Three: Trauma

• How is your LEA preparing to scale up trauma supports for staff, families and students?

• Is there a dedicated role for social and emotional learning in your re-opening plans?

Resource: State Efforts to Address Social and Emotional Learning During the Pandemic
• Are your policies and practices trauma-responsive? How will you address attendance and discipline in light of increased mental health needs?

• What is your system doing to address equity?
Thank You!
